OF THE WASHINGTON
BIBLE INSTITUTE

Foreword

It is with praise in our hearts for our Lord Jesus Christ that the student body presents the 1950 W.B.I. Milestone. Without His leading, this, the second issue of the Milestone, would have been an impossibility.

We have endeavored to present in these pages a true picture of what the Lord has been doing at the Washington Bible Institute during the last year. Realizing that our primary responsibility is to Christ, we have sought to include only that which would glorify and please Him. May this year's Milestone be used of God to remind us and to tell others of His matchless grace and faithfulness.

We Believe In----

The Bible as the inerrant Word of God, verbally inspired, the all-sufficient rule of faith and practice.

One God, eternally existing in three Persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

The virgin birth, the sinless perfection, the bodily resurrection and ascension into heaven of Jesus Christ, and in His present life there for us as High Priest and Advocate.

Man as being created in the image of God, that he disobeyed God, and thereby incurred spiritual death, which is separation from God, and also physical death as a consequence; and that all the Adamic race are born in sin and are sinners by nature and practice.

The vicarious and substitutionary sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ who died for our sins, and that all who believe in Him are justified on the ground of His shed blood.

The personal, premillennial, and imminent return of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

The fact that all who receive by faith the Lord Jesus Christ are born of the Holy Spirit and thereby become children of God.

The bodily resurrection of the just and the unjust, the everlasting blessedness of the saved, and the everlasting punishment of the lost.

The Church as an elect company of believers, baptized by the Holy Spirit into one body; its mission is to witness concerning its Head, Jesus Christ, preaching the Gospel among all nations; it will be caught up to meet the Lord in the air ere He appears to set up His Kingdom.

The grace of God to be sufficient for the maintenance of a godly walk, and that Christ and not the law is the believer's rule of life.

"And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou has sent."

John 17:3

To the Class of 1950:

Paul the Apostle's concern for his converts was that they might grow. Over and over he rejoiced in the progress they were making in faith and in the manifestation of the fruit of the Spirit. To Timothy, his son in the faith, he had this to say, "In speech, conduct, love, faith, and purity be an example to your fellow Christians" (Weymouth). "Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them, that thy PROGRESS (growth) may be manifest unto all" (R.V.). As Bible Institute graduates it should never be necessary for other believers to admonish you about the lack of these things in your lives. Let it never be said that any other Christian has a more consistent walk in the Spirit than you. Paul goes on to admonish Timothy to pay attention to public reading, exhortation, and teaching. Do not neglect your gifts. Give yourself to your obligations that all men can see you grow and go forward in the Lord. Persevere in these things. In other words don't be a quitter. Your reward and the salvation of sinners is at stake.

The fact that W.B.I. has a relatively small student body has made it possible for us to become intimately acquainted and thus developing a bond akin to that of a large family. Apart from the fact that this makes your leaving difficult for us, you are going to value your days at the Institute more than the average student. Bonds are closer. Prayer for one another has been more intimate. Burdens and problems have been shared and you cannot soon forget how others were quick to help. You have established lifetime friends who love you and will always be ready to do what they can to make your life a greater blessing to others. One great characteristic of this class has been their personal loyalty to each other. I also believe your class has shown unusual initiative in waiting upon the Lord and undertaking a task not as an assignment but rather as obedience to the Lord. There will be many times when we will have little or no encouragement from men, but having learned that where the Lord leads we are assured of victory, it will make it easier for us to live a life of prayer and waiting upon God.

We are rejoicing with you in your completion of the course. To us it means you are a better vessel for the Lord to use. We have watched your defeats turn into victories. We have seen the flesh die and the Lord become preeminent. We have seen immature judgment supplanted by the love for and obedience to the Word. We have seen you once with feeble and trembling lips speaking with uncertain words, but now changed to bold Spirit filled witnesses for our precious Lord.

May I remind you that our days are short. The coming of the Lord is certainly not far away. Let nothing hinder you from giving your all to the proclamation of the Gospel while it is day. Our earnest prayers will follow you to this end.

Yours that Christ may be preeminent,

George A. Miles

Senior Class History

Arline Freehauf

September 1947 saw the first day school freshman class and the second full time class arrive at WBI. That eventful day of registration presented a picture of slightly frightened but happy young people from a variety of states and with a more pronounced variety of accents. They all had one thought in mind, and that was to study for the service of the Lord. There were fourteen students to register that first semester in 1947, and there are fourteen that have finished the course. However, the graduates are not the identical fourteen that began three years ago. Some left for various reasons during the three years, and others have transferred into the class from other schools.

Present in the class the first semester were Bessie Lee Albertson from North Carolina, Arline Freehauf from New Jersey, John Kaufman from Maryland, Catherine Calloway from Georgia, Warren Kautz from Virginia, Jarvis Marshall originally from Illinois, Jean McCracken from Pennsylvania, Frances Pickett also originally from Illinois, Sammy Ray from Washington, D. C., Burl Washburn from Virginia, Leah Dowdy from Washington, D. C., Grover Myers from North Carolina, Robert Orner from Indiana, and George Webster from Washington, D. C.

Our first class meeting was held Monday morning, September 29, 1947. Under the guidance of our faculty advisor, Miss LaDelle Dawson, we elected our first class officers. Burl Washburn was President; Leah Dowdy, Vice-President; Bessie Lee Albertson, Secretary; and Grover Myers, Treasurer. It was evident that this class was to enjoy many times of refreshing fellowship away from the strain of studying, because plans were immediately started for a Hallowe'en party. Bob Orner and Sammy Ray, having been chosen as a social committee, planned the social events of the year.

In January 1948 the following students joined the class: Mary Bowers from Georgia; Marie Charlton from Pennsylvania; Frederick Houwen from Africa, Holland, and South America; Alexander Thompson from New Jersey; Donald Douglass from Virginia; Libby Myers from Pennsylvania; and Billy Coley from Maryland. It was during this semester that Catherine Calloway left us for B.I.O.L.A., Bob Orner transferred to the Moody Bible Institute, Leah Dowdy left because of illness, and George Webster left to join the Army.

Jean McCracken was appointed to take charge of the class prayer meetings which were held immediately after the last class of the day. Many of these prayer meetings were held through lunch time and were also times of fasting. These periods of prayer were a means of spiritual blessing, and our class became a happy family in the Lord as we shared one another's joys and sorrows.

In the second semester of our freshman year we had the privilege of presenting to the School a fine oak pulpit made by Colonel Harry Besancon for the auditorium.

The last main event in June was class day. A "real live" automobile, supposedly Mr. Bishop's Ford, was the scene of our skit. To be commended, among others, is Mr. Houwen who played in an excellent manner the part of the engine. Grover and Libby Myers represented Mr. and Mrs. Miles, and Jean McCracken and Bessie Albertson were the twins bouncing along on the back seat.

In September 1948 our class gained five new members, four of whom transferred from the evening school. They were Virginia Frye from Maryland, Clara Kahler from North Carolina, Louise Webster from New York, Maude Bonhotel from Connecticut, and Howard Sherwood from Washington, D. C. and the Moody Bible Institute. We lost, however, Grover and Libby Myers to King's College, and Donald Douglass to Bob Jones University.

Class officers for our junior year were Burl Washburn, President; Jean McCracken, Vice-President; Bessie Albertson, Secretary; and Billy Coley, Treasurer. Frances Pickett and Howard Sherwood were selected as a social committee, and Sammy Ray and Warren Kautz were chosen to be the class representatives on the Student Council.

January 1949 saw two new members added to our class: Bernard Koppel from New York and the National Bible Institute; and William Faitz from Maryland and the Philadelphia School of the Bible. Shortly after the beginning of the second semester, Mary Bowers, who had just previously become Mrs. Howard Atwood, left the class because of ill health. It was in our junior year that we were saddened by the news of the death of George Webster on the Island of Guam.

Skip day in April, 1949 was enjoyed by all as we relaxed at Mr. Linton's Virginia estate, "The Glebe." Class day was again hilarious as the students depicted scenes from the everyday life of the school. The class ended the year with a picnic out at Great Falls, Maryland.

The opening of the senior year saw a number of changes in our class. Cupid had been busy, and during the summer Billy Coley and Bessie Lee Albertson became one. Also Bill Faitz had married Betty Hulings, one of the 1949 graduates. Only one student was added to our class this year. Marjory Bough came to us from Washington, D. C. and the Philadelphia School of the Bible. We lost to the Junior Class a few of our class members who had come in too late in the past years to become full seniors. They were Alexander Thompson, Bernard Koppel, Clara Kahler, and Virginia Frye. Howard Sherwood transferred to Bob Jones University.

This senior year has been one of spiritual blessing and excitement as we have looked forward to new fields. Prayer has been constantly going up for revival, and we know that revival is on the way. Looking back over the three years has made us feel sad and glad both at the same time. It is sad to think of all the good times and Christian fellowship we will be leaving behind. We rejoice, however, to know that the Lord has even greater blessings for us ahead. We sincerely praise the Lord for such a school as W.B.I., where we have had the privilege of studying and fellowshiping together as one family in Christ.

Class Will

We, the class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty, do hereby submit our Last Will and Testament.

To our beloved President, Mr. Miles, we leave our deepest appreciation for his patience and love toward us.

To the faculty we leave our sincere love for their untiring efforts which they made in trying to teach us.

To Mother Miller we leave our gratitude for her motherly love to us.

To the Junior Class we leave the happy times we had as seniors and the right to feel superior next year.

To the Freshman Class we leave all of our dignity and study habits.

To the Junior Students we leave:

Maude Bonhotel's keen Bible knowledge to Marie Alessi.

Marjory Bough's musical ability to Virginia Frye.

Marie Charlton's voice to Clara Kahler.

Bessie Coley's way with children to Lellan West.

Billy Coley's ability to play ping-pong to Maxine Craig.

Bill Faitz's love for sticky buns to Clare Westby-Gibson.

Arline Freehauf's dishwashing job to Doris Jackling.

Mr. Houwen's bass voice to George Scott.

John Kaufman's electrical ingenuity to Earl Coffey.

Warren Kautz's position as Editor-in-Chief of the Milestone to Robert Kirby.

Jarvis Marshall's car and its thrills to Al Thompson.

Jean McCracken's ability to preach to Clifford Wallace.

Sammy Ray's ability to plan parties to Patricia Calbreath.

Burl Washburn's laugh to Jim Calbreath.

And to WBI—WE JUST LEAVE!!!!!!

SIGNED AND DECLARED THIS DAY TO BE OUR LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT.

The Senior Class.

Senior Class Prophecy

Expedition #777's Journal

March 1, 1965

Sammy Ray

Today our party started out in hopes of finding something of value in our excavations. About 10:00 A.M. our chief engineer, Mr. Bishop, struck something. After all the necessary pictures had been taken and the preliminaries completed, we began to dig. In about 15 minutes we uncovered what seemed to have been at one time or another a building of some sort. Perhaps the first A-bomb dropped on the East coast had covered up this city or dwelling completely. We decided to investigate the building and found it intact. We entered through a door in the roof and had to walk down some iron steps. The first floor we came to must have served as individual rooms, for each room was numbered. Just as we started to open one of the doors our engineer cried, "Why, this is W.B.I." It was the Bible School he had taught in before heading up our Christian Crusaders Archaeological Expedition of the U.S.A. He was beaming, and we knew we would have an excellent guide through the rest of this building.

As we went from room to room, Mr. Bishop told us what the others were doing who graduated with the class of 1950. The class president, Burl Washburn, was heading an expedition to the Arctic in search of a rare oak tree. His three sons accompanied him. This was Burl's idea of a rest from being President of the Bible Institute of France. His wife, Dolly Mae, was taking over during his leave. Burl was flying back to France in his Plymouth autogiro.

We were told next of one of the 1950 members who became a director of a large choir and orchestra in a huge "Helicopter" mid-air church. This was none other than Marjory Bough. It looked as though Marjory had gotten "Up" in the world.

Speaking of choirs reminded Mr. Bishop of another pupil, Jean McCracken. She had won the hearts of the people of South America with her lovely contralto voice. This class must have been an unusual one, we thought, because several times our engineer would just stop and laugh as thoughts came to his mind. He told us that everyone had thought Jean would be an old maid, but that she was married to a Baptist evangelist only two days after graduation.

One who was in this class is the now Dr. Freehauf, famed matron of the "Old Maids by Choice Colony," which is located in the Hawaiian Islands because of the climate. She is really doing a good job consoling all of the unclaimed blessings.

Warren Kautz, as Mr. Bishop informed us, was one of the smartest in the class, and was always looking for a revolution. After graduation, Warren went into Canada to work with the Indians and was not disappointed when the revolution came—they made him chief of the Duh! Duh! Duh! tribe. Speaking of revolutions made Mr. Bishop think of a couple in the class, Billy and Bessie Coley, who had gone to Palestine after they graduated. After a year of hard work they completed their observatory on top of Mt. Hermon. Now they are busily engaged in studying the stars and giving calculations as to the truth of the Biblical record.

Our engineer started to laugh again. We couldn't imagine why. He told us that he was thinking of a student at whom he had tossed a piece of chalk one morning in class. He told us that to everyone's amazement that Sammy Ray had become very dignified and sedate, and had married a doctor who was head of "Expedite," a hospital for the mentally ill. She had become the cook for the entire hospital.

"Mr. Bishop," we asked, "whatever became of the rest of that class?"

"Let me see," said Mr. Bishop. "Marie Charlton, who was very active in the class, majored in agriculture, and as we understand it, she now has one of the largest potato producing farms in all Africa. All of the potatoes are being supplied to missionaries and their families.

Again our guide stopped and laughed. He told us later that he had just remembered John Kaufman, who was always telling corny jokes. Everyone laughed at these jokes, regardless of whether or not they were funny. John, he told us, was now pastor of the Moody Church in Chicago, and also head of the "Easy does It" Home for Bachelors.

Our engineer was then given a message which told him that he was to contact his home office immediately regarding steamship reservations. Then he told us of one student who had bought out a large steamship company and operated it for missionaries and ministers of the gospel. This student was none other than Jarvis Marshall.

Next, he told us of one in the class, Maude Bonhotel, who after graduation, went on to college and is now dean of women at Oxford University. Because of her influence, the University has centered its whole curriculum around the Bible.

Then Mr. Bishop told us of another in the class of 1950. Frederick Houwen, who now was President of the Moscow Bible Institute, had traveled, after he graduated, throughout China and Tibet with the "Houwen Musical Foundation" and then went to Russia with the gospel.

Mr. Bishop stopped and scratched what was left of his head. We wondered what was wrong. He said, "There were 14 in that class," and he had only told us of 13. Who in the world was the other one. Oh yes, it was a fellow by the name of Bill Faitz who went to Japan and built a radio station. He is now its chief engineer. The programs from his station are on a world wide network.

Then our guide continued his research for our expedition. Since 1955 he had headed this archaeological expedition to find further truths. He informed us that his fellow colleagues were also scattered. Professor Stannard now was the U. S. Minister of Education to India. He also told us that as a side line, he raised chickens for his own pleasure. Miss Campagna, dean of women in 1950, had married and retired with her family which she had raised on "Black Strap Molasses." She was now living by the St. Lawrence River. We also learned that the beloved President of the Institute, Mr. Miles, had become President and owner of the "Biblical Knowledge by Charts Association." His charts had gone into every home in the universe.

Today proved to be very interesting and perhaps our guide will be able to entertain us further with his memoirs of this building which we are exploring.

The opening day of school found the Juniors excitedly counting noses of the old gang and welcoming the new students. How thankful we were for His faithfulness in that He privileged us to have precious fellowship with each other and to grow in love and wisdom of His Holy Word at the Washington Bible Institute. We realized the need and urgency of the gospel ministry in our nation's Capital because of its strategic position.

Of course we were eager for the initiation. We worked harmoniously with the Seniors in giving the "Rookies" a hearty reception. Included in this was a 30 mile hayride, a flat tire on the way, and an enjoyable "warm" evening climaxed by hot chocolate and coffee at the school. Let it be said that the upper classmen equally enjoyed the return "Thank You" party.

The Juniors had a grand chicken dinner at the home of our advisor, Mr. Stannard. Here on we know when chicken is mentioned, Southern will be a golden chord that will vibrate in our memories as we recall that night and our favorable feast on fine food. In order to make room for the dessert we played a game that required mental alertness. Perhaps our thoughts were still on winged fowl because some of us were caught napping. Television added to our enjoyment as we ate pie a la TV. A brief devotion closed the evening as we paused to say "Thank you" to the Lord.

The Junior Class prayer meetings have proven a real blessing to those who attended. Different members led in a devotional thought for the day. In sharing each other's joys and problems we felt that we were walking in His light. This deepened our fellowship with one another.

The Foreign Missions Fellowship planned a Missionary Conference in April under the leadership of two juniors, Pat and Jim Calbreath. Pat and Jim are secretary and president of the FMF respectively. Speakers from all over the world were there. The class supported FMF with prayers and filled plastic banks to aid in this fine program. The conference lifted our vision to broader horizons and the need in far-flung fields.

On Armistice Day the Juniors and the entire student body joined with the President of the United States and the nation as we honored our war dead in Arlington National Cemetery. As the bugle echoed through the quiet, majestic mountains our hearts were comforted as we cherished our Lord's promise, "I am the resurrection and the life."

During Easter vacation a group of students made a tour of neighboring states. Half a dozen or more of our Junior Class used their combined voices to peal out the glorious glad truths of Easter morn when Christ triumphed over death and on earth's gladdest day became Victor over death.

The big event of the year was the Junior-Senior banquet which is given every year as a farewell to the seniors.

Many thanks go to our teachers who have made this year one to be long remembered. To Jesus Christ our Saviour be all praise and glory for His exceeding abundance.

The Freshman Class

"The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad." Psalm 126:3. We, the members of the freshmen class, praise the Lord for leading us to the Washington Bible Institute and for the blessings He has given us. We sincerely thank the faculty and upper classmen for the aid they have given for our spiritual growth.

When we entered the portals of W.B.I. in September, 1949, Mr. Miles, our President, was on hand to greet us. We knew then that our new surroundings would in every way be a new home. Our class gathered together for the first time in the lounge immediately for a fellowship in song and prayer.

Living in the Nation's Capital offers numerous opportunities for sight-seeing which we could not allow to pass by. We found our tour of the city very thrilling. It was an excellent way to get acquainted with fellow classmates. Everyone agreed that our visit to all the capital's historic and famous spots was well worth the swollen feet and tired backs we picked up along the way.

Our very first day in classes assured us that we were in the right school. We could see before us a glorious year of studying the Book of Books. The first thing accomplished was the realization of how little we knew of this Book and how great the study of the Word can be. This lesson is still being learned. The revelations the Lord gave to us in the classrooms shall be blessings never to be forgotten.

The upper classmen lost no time in letting us know that our title was "rookies," and for a few weeks we filled our position very well. The whisperings of juniors and seniors made us a bit cautious of this thing called initiation, but finally the big night came. Without much hesitation, we were blindfolded and put on a truck for Wabanna and a glorious party combining initiation with a well-appreciated "rookie welcome."

After such a treat, the only way to express our thanks was through a return party. Tables were turned a little, and this time all the secrets were up the sleeves of the freshmen. An evening of fun and laughter was climaxed with a devotional message. Both of these social gatherings proved to draw us into a closer friendship with each class and our faculty.

One of the greatest blessings we have ever received was the first day of prayer we were privileged to attend. It was a marvelous day of refreshing and rejoicing for each of us.

MISS MARY A. HERVEY

MISS ETHEL VANCE
Secretary

Mary A. Hervey

Early in January of 1950 four Christian young women were having lunch together in a downtown tea room. Sarah, Elizabeth, Lois, and Suzanne. The girls were discussing their work in their respective churches, which were Presbyterian, Baptist, Lutheran, and Methodist, each girl feeling the need for more training in her particular field and a better knowledge of the Bible. Finally Sarah said, "Girls, I have an idea! Let's go to Bible school and study." They said, "But where can we go when we work all day and have only our evenings?" Sarah replied, "Haven't you heard of the Evening School of the Washington Bible Institute at 1445 R. I. Ave., N. W.? I am told it is a very good school, fundamental, interdenominational, coeducational, teaching only Bible and related subjects. Let's register for the second semester. As a Sunday School teacher I need more Bible and, Elizabeth, perhaps you can find some subjects to help you with your Young People's Work. Lois, I think you could find subjects that would help you in your work with children." Suzanne spoke up and said, "What is there for me? I go to Sunday School, church, and my missionary society meetings but feel there is so much I do not understand about the Word." Sarah assured her that she might take a course in Personal Soul Winning, Missions, and Church History, and that there were many others to choose from. Anyway, there would be someone in the office who would help them to choose the right subjects. So the girls decided to study.

Three months later the girls had dinner together. Sarah enthusiastically explained how she registered for the Preliminary Training Course and in one year would get her Teacher's Certificate. The course covered the Old and New Testaments, which is the material needed by a Sunday School teacher; Child Study, Pedagogy and Sunday School Administration, which are the methods necessary for successful teaching. Elizabeth said, "Oh! but you should hear what I am learning in Sunday School Evangelism and Adolescent Work. Already I understand my boys and girls better, programs are more interesting, and our attendance and interest are doubled." Lois interrupted to say, "But my classes in Bible Story Telling, Flannelgraph work and Daily Vacation Bible School are the best ever. Being able to reach children for Christ has been the greatest thrill of my life." Suzanne kept quiet until the last for she had a big surprise. "Well, girls, I've surrendered my life to the Lord and plan to prepare for foreign mission work, to go wherever He calls me to go. My classes in Personal Evangelism, Missions, and Bible Doctrine have helped me to hear my call. After this year, I plan to enroll for the General Course at WBI and have been advised that my evening school credits can be transferred."

Sarah, picking up the conversation again, said, "You know, I was amazed the other evening when the registrar told me that this year the evening school enrolled 411 students representing 96 churches and 15 denominations in the District of Columbia. The number of subjects offered is 31, and taught by a faculty of 21. She also told me that a student may get the WBI diploma in three years (32 Sem. Hrs.) and the Standard Training Course Diploma (24 Sem Hrs.) which is issued by the Evangelical Teacher Training Association. You know, girls, I think our teachers are the most able and Spirit filled men and women under whom I've ever studied. And I do enjoy the chapel periods. We hear all the news of the school activities, and the best known missionaries and Bible speakers from all over the land. I have been much impressed with the fine fellowship the students have among themselves and the ever ready willingness to help each other. The faculty is always sympathetic, understanding, and ready to help the student with any problem, and everyone works together for the glory of God. Well, girls, we better go, we have lessons to study and exams to take tonight."

And now, dear reader, won't you pray definitely for WBI, for its staff and especially for these fine young people (precious in His sight) that they may truly study to show themselves approved of God, workmen that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth. II Tim. 2:15.

Extension and Correspondence School

Richmond Extension School

In every city there are many who love the Lord and desire to know the Word. Washington Bible Institute has sought in every way to expand its field of ministry to include other cities that are without the services of an Institute. After much prayer and consultation with friends in Richmond, the Extension School was begun in the fall of 1947. The immediate response was a great encouragement. The school has progressed in spirit and has expanded the curriculum.

Although the number in attendance is still not large, the quality of student is excellent.

At present the student may complete the work for the Standard Training Course. The Institute began in the public schools but was transferred to the educational building of Immanuel Baptist Church. We want to thank the church for the free use of this property. The need for permanent quarters is a matter of prayer.

Much credit for the success of the Institute is due to our faithful teachers and officials. Some testimonies of students follow: "I praise the Lord for W.B.I. It teaches us to 'know how' to serve the Lord after we are saved. We can be saved and still not understand the difference between true and false doctrines that we hear preached. W.B.I. teaches the true way of salvation through the Blood of our Lord and Saviour. We are taught to expect the return of our Lord at any moment. It was at Bible School that I learned what the Bible said about the second coming of Christ. I especially praise the Lord for the studies in Daniel and Revelation which made the word of prophecy more sure to me." J.L.H.

"Realizing that my Christian life and testimony is dependent upon how much time I allow for study and prayer, I am thankful for the opportunity to study in W.B.I. Extension." H. B.

Papers! Papers! More papers! More and more papers, on and on they come.

Look at this one. It's Irene's, a lesson on I and II Kings. She is just a new babe in Christ, way out in North Dakota, studying to know more of God's Word that she may be an effective servant for Him. Here is another one. This is Janet's fifteenth lesson in Personal Evangelism. She, also, is a young Christian, just a High School student, but so earnest, and desirous of showing her classmates the way of salvation.

Elizabeth's papers are a great joy. I wonder if she is gaining strength. It is good that she is able to be home now for Elizabeth has just recently been discharged from a T.B. Sanatorium and is convalescing. She began her Bible courses while in the Sanatorium and is steadfastly continuing them at home. She says they bring her a great blessing. Pearl is older, working as companion and housekeeper for a semi-invalid. Her zeal for the Lord is great, and she is praying that the Lord will find her a fit vessel for full time service. In the meantime she is studying and preparing for the place that the Lord will have for her someday.

This is Mary's paper. You would love her, a mother of four children who feels that she cannot bring up her children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord if she herself is not well grounded in the Word of God. Nancy, Jimmie, Billie, and Bob are little now, but some day they will give thanks for their fine Christian mother. Elsie, too, knows that the Christian home is the only true home, and she wants to do her part in making hers a real Christian home. Elsie is the wife of a service man. Her Bible study started here at W.B.I., but when Jim was sent to California she went along. Distance, however, didn't dampen her enthusiasm for Bible study.

Here's another interesting one. Can't you see Rudy with his open Bible studying hard on that North Carolina College campus? Rudy came in and enrolled before he started to college last fall. He's a good advertiser, for it was only a short time later that Charlie also enrolled in Personal Evangelism and now they're studying together and witnessing for Christ on that campus. This paper in Bible Introduction shows the results of much hard study. It is Betty's, who works in an insurance office in Missouri. That is her daytime job, but her real job is the Lord's work. Betty has only three or four courses to take, and she will receive the W.B.I. Correspondence Diploma. She is another who lived in Washington and attended W.B.I., continuing her study after she moved away.

John's paper is an evidence of his hard work. He isn't very strong, having had two or three operations in the past year. Yet he struggles on, studying when he is able and is accomplishing things too. He received the Preliminary Evangelical Teacher Training Certificate last summer, and is well on his way to a W.B.I. Correspondence Diploma. He seldom sends in a paper without telling of his great joy in Bible study. This paper brings a thrill. You see it belongs to Roy, who is in prison. God's grace reached out to this prisoner and now he is a sinner saved by grace. Yes, he is using his time while still in prison to study God's Word, and when his time is up, he plans to prepare in earnest for full time Christian work.

You can always count on Eric's papers being excellent. His questions show that he has studied each lesson in great detail. Eric is a Sunday School teacher in Canada, who thinks his study is worth while, for it was his recommendation that led two of his students to take courses. La Verne's paper is a model of neatness. She is a Salvation Army Lassie in Minnesota who longs some day to hear Jesus say, "Well done thou good and faithful servant." But she knows that she can never be that good and faithful servant if she neglects the study of God's precious Word.

Papers! Did I say papers? Yes, they're papers but much more than that, lives are revealed there. They're papers of W.B.I. students. It's true you don't see their faces in the halls or classrooms, for they aren't privileged to attend classes here. These that you've just met are a few of the 56 students enrolled in W.B.I. correspondence courses, sending in papers from California, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Maine, Florida, Missouri and 11 other states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

OFFICE

Mrs. Dorothea Swilling, School Secretary, Mr. Miles' faithful, efficient secretary.

There is much work in the running of a Bible institute. Here is where much of that work is done.

Rev. Edward Stelling

The secret of prayer is secret prayer, and this department could almost be called the Secret Prayer Department. For most of its members have never even met each other, including its secretary, and very few have prayed together in assembly. However, each member is pledged, individually in secret prayer, to remember the needs of the Institute before the Lord.

These needs, along with the prayer steward letter written by the secretary to instruct the member in scriptural praying, are sent out each month to the prayer stewards. Those who can reach the Institute in Washington meet once a month unitedly to praise and thank God for answered prayer and to call upon His name.

The secret of the progress of W.B.I. can without a doubt be traced to the faithful prayer stewards. Many prayers have been definitely answered during this past year for school personnel and property.

Yet, the intercessions of this department are not for W.B.I. only, for the stewards are given requests for many other activities outside the realm of this Institute as they pray in their weekly prayer cycle. Answers in abundance to such prayers may never be known to this department until He comes, yet we must occupy faithfully at the throne of grace until then.

Special Events

Mid-Year Bible Conference

Clara Kabler

One of the main features at W.B.I. is the Mid-Year Bible Conference. Of course it is of special interest to the students because exams are over and there are a few days of freedom from studies. This year the conference, beginning January 25 and ending January 27, was the best that we have ever had.

Rev. Ed Stelling, evangelist and secretary of W.B.I.'s Prayer Steward Department, opened the conference by starting a series of messages on soul winning. The topics dealt with were Prayer and Soul Winning, The Word of God and Soul Winning, and The Holy Spirit and Soul Winning. Mr. Stelling also gave his own personal testimony in relation to the Baptism of the Holy Spirit.

One of our own teachers, Mr. Willis Bishop, gave a very interesting, concise message on Questions in Bible Interpretation. An enlightening and informative message on Palestine and Bible Prophecy was brought by one of our trustees, Mr. Francis Simmons.

Rev. Lehman Strauss, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bristol, Pennsylvania, thrilled us as he presented to us the great truths of the gospel of grace as found in the book of Galatians. Rev. Strauss is author of several books containing many golden nuggets of Bible knowledge. A Bible Conference at W.B.I. wouldn't be complete without a missionary. Rev. Ernest Lubkemann, home on furlough from Brazil, told of the great need among the Indians in the interior of that vast country. Certainly we are praising God "from whom all blessings flow" for these men of God and their inspiring messages to our hearts.

The Day of Prayer

Virginia Frye

"Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you." Hebrews 13:17.

With such a great task to perform, we can easily see why our teachers occasionally set aside a day for prayer. That day is always outstanding in our school life. With an air of expectancy and anticipation we gather in the auditorium for a time of praising the Lord in song and prayer. Next, in the privacy of our rooms, there is a period for that thing that is most needful—individual Bible reading accompanied by confession and cleansing. After individual hearts are made right with God, there is an increased desire to pray for others, so opportunity is given for couples to share each other's prayer requests. But now the scope grows wider. As we gather together once more, petitions are made to our Heavenly Father on behalf of the Washington Bible Institute and the folk on the mission field. This year we have a new group to pray for—the first graduates of our W.B.I. Day School.

The most choice spots in this program are the many musical selections among our various prayer periods, and the testimony time at the close of the meeting. How precious are the moments spent in the secret of His presence.

"A little place of mystic grace
Of self and sin swept bare,
Where I may look upon thy face,
And talk with Thee in prayer."

Youth Conference

Jerome Tunney

We all agree that the Lord has a plan and purpose for everything, and the Youth Conference was certainly included in it. Rev. Carl Elgena (we got to know him as "Mr.") was used greatly of the Lord to bring stirring and heart-searching messages which really "hit the mark" in our lives.

Part of Friday evening was taken up with a time of praise, which was a real blessing to us. The testimonies were short and to the point giving God the glory. Following the message, a rescue mission picture was shown entitled Of Scrap or Steel. It helped us to vividly realize how 2 Corinthians 5:17 works in the lives of men, and how the Lord can take a poor sinner and make him a saint worthy of being a "joint heir with Christ." Watching the degradation of a human life depicted on the screen gave each of us a renewed vision of rescue mission work.

The picture was followed by games, a play starring Mr. Bishop as the hero, refreshments, and an enjoyable evening of Christian fellowship. Our counsellors led us in group devotions, and we were then ready to climb into our beds. Some of us wondered just how to get into an army cot without it folding up. For others, the main problem was getting settled without rolling off. After a great deal of laughing and joking about our plight, we drifted off to spend the rest of the night dreaming of the good times we were having.

In the morning, only a handful of us had stiff necks (the rest all had stiff backs) when we arose at 7:00 A.M. The tantalizing odors from the dining room made it easy to follow our noses to the tables where we fed our bodies, and then had our souls fed on "The Bread of Life" in a devotional led by Mr. Bishop.

At 8:00 A.M. we saw the missionary picture, China Challenge, which showed how Youth for Christ is "holding forth the word of life" in China. It gave us a real missionary challenge by pointing out the great need for workers to carry the gospel forth.

At 10:00 A.M. Mr. Elgena's Bible study hour on the book of Philippians gave us new material for thought, as it brought out some wonderful and practical truths. This was followed by separate group discussions on our various personal problems.

After a short walk around the neighborhood and a delicious lunch, the final message was given at 1:00 P.M. Many of us at this time re-dedicated our lives to His service. A sight-seeing trip to Arlington, where we witnessed the "Change of Guard" at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, completed one of the most enjoyable weekends we had ever spent.

We left rejoicing that the Lord had given us the privilege of being here. Plans are already under way for the next Youth Conference, and we are all coming back. Many others are expected to attend also. Will you be one of them?

The Devotional Life of the School

Jean McCracken

Each morning begins with personal devotions and each evening is ended in quiet meditation of God's Word. We have learned that if we expect to grow in the Lord, we must read the Word and spend time with Him.

Not only do we have our personal devotions, but we also meet in groups for prayer. The girls dorm residents meet in groups for prayer. The boys meet each morning at 6 A.M. to get the right start for the day. In these prayer meetings we learn what one another's needs and problems are, which help us to pray intelligently and specifically. As a result of these prayer meetings, we have had many marvelous answers to prayer. Not only have our needs been met, but some of our loved ones have been saved.

Each individual class meets just before we begin classes each day. We have FMF groups meeting for prayer, at which time we pray for missionaries who have given their lives to tell others of our precious Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Recently, a spontaneous get-together for urgent special requests for prayer has been evident at the school. There has been a greater interest in revival shown. Many students have spent the entire night in united prayer. Each one gives testimony of how the Lord has blessed in each of their hearts and lives in these prayer meetings. How we rejoice in the way the Lord has been graciously dealing in the lives of all.

"Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God." Philippians 4:6.

Skip Day, 1949

Doris Jackling

The one time a year when it is legal for the whole school to skip classes is skip day. April first came around; the teachers' curiosity was on end, and the students were just as excited. The whole student body assembled at a student's house down the street and waited until the teachers had had time to discover their absence. When the teachers had returned to the classrooms upon request, much to their surprise the students were there. It was a good April fool's joke.

Days later, on April 25, the real skip day went into effect. Gathering together in many cars, the students went to "The Glebe," a mansion in Virginia belonging to Mr. Linton. Not having enough cars, Bill Faltz offered his '29 Ford as a substitute. We had a wonderful time relaxing our minds from the hard slaving work given us by our teachers, and enjoying the eats, games, and other things.

Back at school, Mr. Bishop having been properly notified by the sign on his door, saying, "we have went," began to work by cutting the grass. Mr. Stannard, late as usual, saw Mr. Bishop cutting the grass and so was not surprised. Mr. Miles, after finding a parking space 9 blocks away, came to class and found as his students the rest of the faculty. Later, finding out that one of the part time teachers was present on the trip, Mr. Miles called Mrs. Linton and found that her husband was not at home in Washington. Mr. Miles came to the conclusion that we were at "The Glebe" in Virginia, but it was too late for the teachers to come and join us, so they enjoyed a nice quiet day of relaxation.

Christian Service Department

Elvira Bonzo

A young lad of twelve waited around one Friday night in church. Few people were left as this boy asked the pastor if he could see him alone. "Certainly," said the pastor. When all the people were gone, the lad asked the pastor how he could be saved. In just a few minutes he knew the answer, and he accepted Christ as his own personal Saviour from sin. The following Sunday he got up in the church service and gave testimony to that fact.

It all started three years ago when a phone call came to Mr. John Stannard, director of the Christian Service Department. The voice at the other end of the line asked Mr. Stannard if he could send someone to Shirley Homes to preach the following Sunday. The reply came back, "Yes, I can." Herman Dowdy was asked to go. Not only did he preach that Sunday, but he continued there for two years until he graduated from W.B.I. Again a phone call came to the Christian Service Department requesting a student to preach on Sunday. This time it was John Kaufman. John was the pastor who led this young lad of twelve to the Lord that Friday evening.

This is only one way in which the Christian Service Department of the school operates. Gospel teams are sent out to churches. The young people sing, give testimonies, and preach the Word of God. Many of our students teach Sunday School, Bible Clubs, and direct Young People's groups. In the near future a nine-voice choir of girls is going out on a tour of nearby states, and at the same time a boy's quartet will make a tour.

Once in a while, one of our trustees and director of Quizpiration, Rev. Dale Crowley, calls up and asks for two teams to compete with each other on his radio program. This year, the two teams were composed as follows: three girls from the graduating class of the night school opposed three boys from the day school. The girls were Mrs. Howard Carlson, Eloise Teem, and Pearl Rote. The boys were Warren Kautz, Howard Carlson, and John Kaufman. Mrs. Carlson was high scorer of the evening, but the boys carried off the honors as a team. Each year, on Quizpiration's radio anniversary, the high scorers of the year get together to battle it out to see who is the high scorer of the year. Last year's winner was Maude Bonhotel who is going into the book business because she has won so many books on the Quiz.

We praise God for the Christian Service Department, which helps us to help others and to put into practice the things which we learn in the classroom.

Recreation

John Kaufman

There he goes—the mighty Casey in the form of our President, Mr. Miles—only thing is he didn't strike out.—That's right—the faculty and students of the Washington Bible Institute are taking time out for recreation. What a blessing it is when the faculty and students have the opportunity to get together to relax from the usual routine of study and concentration for a baseball game, a hot dog roast, or perhaps a chicken fry.

Last year we sponsored a tennis tournament for the members of our school. Many of our students competed but it would seem that two of our faculty members were by far the superior players because Mr. Stannard and Mr. Miles were the contestants for the finals. It was a stiff competition and everyone wondered who would win, but soon the suspense was over and who came out on top? You guessed it—President Miles won the tournament with flying colors.

One day each week (Thursday) all of our students go to the "Y" where they engage in such sports as football, basketball, swimming, badminton, and tennis. The girls go to the "YW" with Miss Campagna and the boys go to the "YM" with Mr. Bishop.

Our recreation does not stop there, however, for there are frequent class outings also. For example, last fall, the senior class decided to have an early morning breakfast "in the rough." They decided to get up at the unheard of hour of five o'clock. The day arrived, and one by one—Y-A-W-N—the forms of sleepy-eyed Seniors began to appear in the front hall of the Institute. Soon, oh dear,—Y-A-W-N—they were off to Rock Creek Park where the appetizing aroma of frying bacon and eggs began to penetrate the strong odor of the smoke which filled the surrounding cold winter air. In spite of the fact that a few dead leaves from the nearby trees had fallen into the skillet where the food was frying, everyone had a good time. Never to be forgotten was the way that Burl burned the good bacon grease out of the frying pans.

The greatest blessing of all in every activity is the fact that time is always taken out to engage in prayer and devotion to the One who has redeemed us and made us free. The Lord has made it possible for us to have a really good time, for we are His and He is ours.

The Practical Work Department

Clifford Wallace

The maintenance of our school building is carried on by the practical work department under the direction of Mr. Stannard. Since we do not charge tuition here at W.B.I., the students spend five hours a week assisting in the upkeep of the school building. To mention a few examples (in order to get some idea of what this department does) there is John Kaufman. As a "Rookie," I was "shocked" to find out that he was working with Alec Tricity. Although John has many problems, he never blows a fuse—he leaves that to the girls in the dorm. Roy Martin is no political candidate, but he sure has a big campaign in the dining room (clean up that is). George Scott has been very faithful in waxing the floors each week and does the job very well.

Marie Charlton relieves the cook every Sunday morning, and really likes her job. We think her pastries are just grand, and her fried chicken . . . M.m.m.m. Marie Alessi, while arranging the dining room tables, flits in and out of the room to almost any tune (depending upon whose time it is to practice piano). Clara Kahler and a few others have put our library in A-1 condition.

There are many other jobs to do in the practical work department, such as tending the switch-board, working in the office, etc. On the whole, the students show a willingness to do these tasks as unto the Lord.

* * * *

I wish to take this opportunity to express my thanks and appreciation to everyone who had a part in making the 1950 Milestone possible. Of course, the Lord is the first One who should be thanked, for without His leading and grace nothing would have been accomplished. All praise should go to Him. However, there are a great number of people who were used of Him to help make this yearbook a success.

I want to thank each member of the Milestone staff for the hours of work spent on this publication. I realize that these were valuable hours literally squeezed out of a very busy school schedule. My appreciation goes out to those students not on the staff who wrote articles or did other work in behalf of the Milestone. The advice of the faculty was much needed, and I thank them for their understanding counsel. Without the support of our sponsors, the financial part of this project would have been a complete failure. Their vital interest in the Institute and in the students is what God uses to support the entire work at W.B.I. To those who have bought a yearbook, I wish to thank you for your interest in the school and its students.

I only hope that the 1950 Milestone will be well pleasing to our wonderful Lord. The primary purpose of the yearbook is to show forth the faithfulness of God and what He has been doing in the lives of the students He has sent here to study and train for His service.

Decision Determines Destiny

Christ Received

■ "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth [trusts] in Him [as personal Saviour] should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16).

■ "In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (John 14:2,3).

Christ Rejected

■ "He that believeth [trusts] not the Son [as personal Saviour] shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him" (John 3:36b).

■ "But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death" (Revelation 21:8).

■ "And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire" [hell] (Revelation 20:15).
